

Jamie Sepulveda - LSLS Cert. AVEEd Candidate

Programs Manager

Teacher of the Deaf

MS DE Master in Deaf Education, Washington University in St Louis

BS Communication Disorders, Truman State

---

As Desert Voices' Programs Manager, Jamie is responsible for impacting outcomes through operational and instructional improvements. Jamie guides families through the enrollment process and works with community partners to maintain positive relationships. She collaborates with Desert Voices' listening and spoken language professionals so as a team we can continue to advance our services and ensure each child at Desert Voices' has a unique program to meet their language goals. When in our building you can often find her brainstorming with a team member on the next big project or giggling with the kids in the hallway.

Jamie started at Desert Voices in August of 2017. She previously worked in early intervention for Arizona School for the Deaf and Blind in Flagstaff, Arizona. Jamie is happy that her first career gave her opportunities to build her cultural sensitivity by working with three Native American tribes and gaining knowledge from a variety of professionals. She heard about Desert Voices' from her former professor and could not be more pleased to be a part of an innovative, supportive team of individuals that work hard everyday to give children and parents a strong voice.

Jamie started the journey to becoming a Listening and Spoken Language Specialist (LSLS ) certified by the Alexander Graham Bell Association (AG Bell )to ensure she is giving families the highest level of listening and spoken language services. She is anticipated to receive her LSLS certification by May of 2022.

Jamie enjoys exploring the beautiful scenery Arizona has to offer with her husband, son and two dogs. When it is too hot she likes catching the latest film at the movie theatre or splurging at a local Home Goods store.

